Monthly Report

FUND DESCRIPTION

Patrimonium is a subfund of MerclIn II SICAV. The objective of the fund is to increase the value of your investment over the medium- to long term. Under normal market conditions, the fund primarily invests in a diversified portfolio of equities and bonds issued by companies from across the world, including from emerging market countries. The fund may invest directly in equities or bonds, or indirectly by investing in units of other investment funds or in certificates of deposit. In order to take advantage or hedge against market fluctuations, or for effective portfolio management, the sub-fund may use derivatives. The fund is actively managed without reference to any benchmark index. The manager selects flexibly between different investment classes, sectors and countries on the basis of macro-economic and financial criteria.

This fund is suitable for investors who understand the risks of the fund and who wish to invest for a minimum investment horizon of 3 to 5 years.
This investment policy is also mentioned in the key investor information of the fund.

MANAGER'S COMMENT

Since the beginning of the year the equity markets have been very volatile, but unlike in the past, investment grade government bonds with low risk of default have not protected the balanced investor. Over the last 50 years markets witnessed a flight to quality when markets became nervous sending yields lower and providing a counterweight to the losses incurred on the equity exposure. This year however both bonds' markets and equity markets have large negative performance year to date due to the sharp rising interest rates since the beginning of 2022.

As the fund was positioned with a low duration, the fund was less hit by the rapid rise in interest rates caused by the surge in inflation and the envisaged actions of the central banks in Europe and the US. The fund is also invested in bonds that have wider credit spreads than government bonds, providing some cushion to absorb the rising rates.

Another source of satisfaction has been the exposure of the fund to bonds issued in USD and Mexican pesos. With a largely positive performance year to date of these currencies, those positions also helped mitigate the drag on the bond exposure. Last month the fund sold all its exposure to Mexican pesos bonds as this currency is very correlated to the oil prices. At current prices the upside for the currency is less obvious as the oil price is already high compared to historical norm.

The subfund's risk level reflects the following factor(s):

- The risk level does not reflect the potential impact of unusual market conditions or unforeseen events that may increase risk or trigger other risks such as:
- Counterparty risk: the subfund can lose money as a result of the failure of a market player with which it does business.
  - Credit risk: risk associated with bonds becoming worthless when the issuer of the bond is not able to repay its debt on maturity.
  - Liquidity risk: some financial securities may be impossible to sell quickly at a given time or may have to be sold at a discount.
  - Management risk: under abnormal market conditions, the usual management techniques may be ineffective or unfavourable.
  - Risk of derivatives: some derivatives may increase the volatility of the subfund or expose the subfund to losses that are higher than the price of the derivatives.
  - Operating risk: in any market, and especially in the emerging markets, the subfund may lose some or all of its money if there is a failure in the custody of assets or in case of fraud, corruption, political actions or any other adverse event.
