MANAGER'S COMMENT

At the end of April, the vast majority of portfolio companies have reported their first quarter 2023 results. It has to be said that, in general, company earnings have proven to be extremely resilient. This is reflected in the fact that, across the market, revenue and bottom-line beats (where a company performs better than expected) were significantly above historical standards. The fund was not a stranger to this trend and overall has seen highly satisfactory results. This strength is visible across sectors, as companies from sectors as diverse as cloud technology, pharmaceuticals, semiconductors all the way to financials have all produced strong results. While the macro-environment remains uncertain, management outlook for the remainder of 2023 was generally positive and better than expected. Furthermore, valuations remain very reasonable, especially in light of these positive earnings reports. This is an example of the application of the investment policy. Portfolio changes may occur at any time.

RISK INDICATOR

The risk indicator is designed to help you compare the risks of investment products. It uses the required calculation methodology, which includes market movements and the risk that the product manufacturer cannot pay out as required. The risk indicator is not guaranteed and may change over time.

Any investment involves risk. The value of your investment in this sub-fund will increase or decrease over time, and you may lose some or all of your investment. This product is in the medium to high risk category (level 4 out of 7). Adverse market conditions will most likely decrease the value of your investment.

The subfund's risk level reflects the following: equities have a higher volatility and risk level than bonds and money market instruments.

Other important risks partly or completely unreflected in the risk indicator:

- If your currency as an investor is different from the subscription currency of this product, changes in currency exchange rates could reduce any investment gains or increase any investment losses.

- Unusual market conditions or unforeseeable events may magnify risks or trigger other risks such as counterparty, liquidity and operational risks (a full description of these risks is available in the prospectus).

- If you place a request to sell (redeem) shares at a time when this product has received many other sell requests, the processing of your order may be delayed, which could affect the price you receive for your shares.
